

GROOM KILLED, BRIDE HURT

And Two Other Members of Wedding Party are Dead

AND ANOTHER BADLY HURT

They Were on the Way to Wedding, When Automobile Went off Bridge as Chauffeur Tried to Light a Cigarette Early To-day.

Outburt, Pa., Nov. 22.—Three people are dead and two are badly injured, as the result of an automobile accident early to-day, when the car in which they were riding went over a bridge and fell to the railroad track below, a distance of thirty feet.

The Dead.
Orris Williams.
James Shepard.
Horace Shepard.

The Injured.
Helen Mattox.
Mary Bradley.
The party were on the way to attend the wedding of two of its members, James Shepard and Miss Mattox, the former of whom lost his life and the latter being badly injured. The accident was caused by the fact that the chauffeur of the machine attempted to light a cigarette when the car was in motion, losing control, so that the automobile shot off the road and over the side of the bridge.

HAD A LONG FALL BUT WAS NOT KILLED

Fred Elwell of Bennington Had a Remarkable Escape From Death Yesterday. Broken Leg Worst Injury.

Bennington, Nov. 22.—Fred Elwell fell a distance of nearly forty feet from the third story of a block which is being built on Main street by A. H. Winslow, yesterday, and escaped death in a most remarkable manner. He was badly injured, however, having one leg broken, his nose broken and sustaining other lesser injuries.

Mr. Elwell is 40 years of age and a carpenter by trade. Yesterday at about noon he went to the Winslow building to look it over. While on the third floor he stepped from a ladder to a roof beam, losing his balance and going down to the first floor.

STORY CONFIRMED.

Of the Safety of Astor's Yacht at San Juan.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22.—At 12:30 this morning wireless communication with Guantanamo was established here and a partial confirmation of the safety of the Noumahal at San Juan was secured. The wireless station at that point reported having heard messages early to-day to the effect that the Noumahal was safe in port. Efforts to raise San Juan have been unsuccessful.

The steamer Mascotte of the P. & O. line, which reached here last night, reported having a portion of the message to the same effect yesterday.

Sunday night is usually an off night at the wireless station and it is exceedingly hard to get any of the stations to answer.

STILL HUNTING FOR YACHT.

Noumahal Not at San Juan To-day. Freighters Heard From.

New York, Nov. 22.—Despite the wireless report from the steamer Mascotte, reporting that the Astor yacht was at San Juan, November 15, the Astor interests are continuing the search, as a wireless message to Tampa says the yacht is not at San Juan to-day. Whether she had been there was not said. The United wireless to-day heard from the Admiral Dewey freighter, in West Indian waters. The Astor yacht was in Jamaica, November 5, before the hurricane. Every wireless is working for news.

JIM JEFFRIES' AUTO.

Said to Have Struck Woman in Akron, Ohio, Last Night.

Akron, Ohio, Nov. 22.—An automobile, containing James J. Jeffries, the pugilist, Fred Woot, a local automobile racer, Frank Gotsch and other sporting men, struck Mrs. Lillian Rotzel of 139 Crosby street late last night, breaking her wrists and ankles, according to a report made public by the police. Physicians claim the woman will be permanently crippled.

Queen Wilhelmina Expects Child.

The Hague, Nov. 22.—It is announced to-day that Queen Wilhelmina expects a child early in 1910.

GRANVILLE.

E. J. Martin was in Brantree Monday, and Mrs. Alfred Eaton of Randolph were recent guests of S. H. Kent and E. J. Jewett.

Miss Lola Fifelet accompanied her aunt, Miss Gleason, to her home in West Lebanon, Wednesday. She consulted a specialist in regard to her eye which has been troubling her. He pronounced it a cataract.

A. J. Huntley of Woodstock visited his parents the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jewett are visiting their son, A. E. Jewett, and other relatives in Randolph this week.

William P. Fifelet was in Brantree Wednesday for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plunkett of Bolton were the guests of her parents the first of the week.

BRINGING CHURCHES TOGETHER.

Too Many Vermont Ministers Are Living at Starvation Prices.

Burlington, Nov. 22.—The Rev. George Frederick Wells of the Vermont interdenominational committee has finished his first six months' work in this line with splendid results. Five representative men from each of the Baptist, Congregational, Free Baptist and Methodist denominations compose the committee, and by a unanimous vote at the last annual meeting Mr. Wells was asked to devote one year to the promotion of unity and the active co-operation of the churches of Vermont.

Vermont has one church for every 324 persons of the total population. Calculating for the seven leading Protestant denominations, Vermont has 170 communities with one church each. But there are 127 communities with two churches each; 34 with three churches; 18 with four churches; six with five churches; two with seven churches; and one with six churches; all of these churches being one of seven denominations only. More than $6,000 of domestic missionary funds are expended each year in Vermont fields where there are two or more churches. Such is the missionary cost of church rivalry. It is claimed that too many ministers are living at starvation rates in continuing this un-Christian strife.

Mr. Wells reports partially as follows: The settling of two of the above mentioned cases has already saved to the churches of Vermont ten times the expense of the research society thus far!

The committee is in the field for results. We seek to promote such work as Randolph township represents, where, five years ago, there were ten churches and nine ministers struggling to do the work which, to-day, nine churches and six ministers are doing to better advantage. We want more instances as at Fairlee, where, by federation, a resident pastor has taken the place in stronger parish service of two former non-resident supplies. One denominational leader refused recently to permit a struggling church to federate because, said he, "I would be ashamed to confess, while I am in office, that that church got so weak that it must federate to live." Another leader would not permit a still weaker church to organically unite with other churches in the formation of one strong community church, because he feared to face his denomination, having given up one of its churches. Most communities suffer for the sake of denominational records! The fact that there are too many churches in small places is another factor, usually, of the present leaders; but, if the disease continues, who more than they are responsible? We seek to open every case of narrow, un-Christian, bigoted and wasteful sectarian record-keeping to the line-light of wholesome public opinion. As a clearing house of the best information on these subjects, we seek to help the denominations to be Christian. We would root the curse of overlooking and overlooking.

Community is preventive. Federation is an active process of remedy. Co-operation and organic union call for the simple service of churches in community building. The committee is in the field for results. We seek to promote such work as Randolph township represents, where, five years ago, there were ten churches and nine ministers struggling to do the work which, to-day, nine churches and six ministers are doing to better advantage. We want more instances as at Fairlee, where, by federation, a resident pastor has taken the place in stronger parish service of two former non-resident supplies. One denominational leader refused recently to permit a struggling church to federate because, said he, "I would be ashamed to confess, while I am in office, that that church got so weak that it must federate to live." Another leader would not permit a still weaker church to organically unite with other churches in the formation of one strong community church, because he feared to face his denomination, having given up one of its churches. Most communities suffer for the sake of denominational records! The fact that there are too many churches in small places is another factor, usually, of the present leaders; but, if the disease continues, who more than they are responsible? We seek to open every case of narrow, un-Christian, bigoted and wasteful sectarian record-keeping to the line-light of wholesome public opinion. As a clearing house of the best information on these subjects, we seek to help the denominations to be Christian. We would root the curse of overlooking and overlooking.

Community is preventive. Federation is an active process of remedy. Co-operation and organic union call for the simple service of churches in community building. The committee is in the field for results. We seek to promote such work as Randolph township represents, where, five years ago, there were ten churches and nine ministers struggling to do the work which, to-day, nine churches and six ministers are doing to better advantage. We want more instances as at Fairlee, where, by federation, a resident pastor has taken the place in stronger parish service of two former non-resident supplies. One denominational leader refused recently to permit a struggling church to federate because, said he, "I would be ashamed to confess, while I am in office, that that church got so weak that it must federate to live." Another leader would not permit a still weaker church to organically unite with other churches in the formation of one strong community church, because he feared to face his denomination, having given up one of its churches. Most communities suffer for the sake of denominational records! The fact that there are too many churches in small places is another factor, usually, of the present leaders; but, if the disease continues, who more than they are responsible? We seek to open every case of narrow, un-Christian, bigoted and wasteful sectarian record-keeping to the line-light of wholesome public opinion. As a clearing house of the best information on these subjects, we seek to help the denominations to be Christian. We would root the curse of overlooking and overlooking.

EXECUTION FOLLOWS.

Speedy Trial.

Theodore Rizio, Confessed Slayer of Two Children, Executed at Auburn, N. Y., Prison Early To-day.

Auburn, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Theodore Rizio, confessed slayer of Theresa Procopio and Freddie Infusino, two children killed at Utica, was executed in the electric chair early to-day. His death followed the speediest trial and conviction in the history of New York justice, eight weeks sufficing for it.

DIVORCES GRANTED.

Four Women Secured Them in Washington County Court.

Washington county court has granted divorces to four women. They are: Clara H. Irish, for intolerable severity; Attorney L. C. Moody for the petitioner; Alice Blake from C. D. Blake, for willful desertion; J. G. Wing for the petitioner; Muriel E. Sanford from Arthur E. Sanford, for intolerable severity; J. H. Sanford for the petitioner; Florence G. Sprague from Frank L. Sprague, for refusal to support; P. E. Bailey for the petitioner. No decision was announced in the suit of Mrs. Elizabeth Livingston from John Livingston, which was heard on Saturday.

TEAMSTER KILLED BY HIS OWN TEAM

Fred Corlies' Fatal Accident Near Hardwick Was Not Known Until Another Team Came Along and Went Over the Body Again.

Hardwick, Nov. 22.—Fred Corlies, who drove a freight team between this place and Craftsbury, was killed Saturday night, when he fell from his team and was run over. No one saw the accident, and it was not until another team came along and again ran over the body that the discovery was made. Corlies' wagon carried about 5,000 pounds weight. It is thought that the driver was asleep and fell under the wheels. He resided in Craftsbury and was 47 years of age. He leaves his wife in that town.

JURY WAS DRUNK.

Declared Charles W. Morse's Lawyer in Petition for New Trial.

New York, Nov. 22.—Bitterly assailing the jury, which convicted Charles W. Morse, by affidavits which declared them drunk when on duty and asserting that they were unfit to try a complicated case, Martin Littlejohn this afternoon applied to the federal circuit court of appeals for a new trial for his client.

STRANGE CASE OF SUICIDE

Charles H. Stewart, Aged 23, Killed Himself at Hardwick

JUST AS EMPLOYER DID

Young Stewart Also Used Same Revolver Which J. Vernon Dutton Killed Himself with Five Weeks Ago To-day.

Hardwick, Nov. 22.—Using the same revolver with which J. Vernon Dutton, his employer, killed himself five weeks ago to-day, Charles H. Stewart, aged 23 years, shot himself late last night and died at four o'clock this morning. His friends are unable to account for his act, unless he had become suddenly depressed through brooding over Mr. Dutton's death and the receipt of a telegram from Lyndonville, announcing the suicide of Miss Kowena Clark, aged 13. The telegram was sent by the girl's parents to a relative here.

Young Stewart went from the St. J. & L. C. R. R. office, where he had been employed for about two years as checking clerk, to his home at about 8:45 last night and at once fired the fatal shot. The weapon, which in five weeks has ended the lives of two Hardwick men, was the property of young Stewart and was kept at the station to be used in the transfer of money.

The young man had placed the revolver at the right side of his head and pulled the trigger, the bullet plunging through the head and coming out near the temple on the left side. Drs. Darling and Ferris were summoned to care for the wounded man, but nothing could be done to save his life, although he lingered along for seven hours. He had apparently been in his usual health. When the Lyndonville message came, announcing the suicide of the Clark girl, he commented considerably on it.

He had many friends in this town and was known as a generous-hearted fellow. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Stewart of this place, the former being a member of the granite manufacturing firm, known as the Stewart Granite works. Besides his parents, he leaves one brother, John R. Stewart, and one sister, Mrs. Jessie Ross, both of this place. Young Charles had been working for the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain railroad most of the time since he was graduated from Hardwick academy.

The funeral will be held from his father's home on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

CHELSEA MAN'S BODY HANGING IN BARN

Marshall O. Gates, Prominent Citizen of Chelsea, Had Brooded Over His Illness and Was Deranged.

Chelsea, Nov. 22.—The sad findings of death in our midst has been so very frequent of late and while it always brings with it more or less of a shock, yet there has not come to the townspeople such a shock for many a year as the telephone wires carried Sunday afternoon, when they transmitted the message that Marshall O. Gates had committed suicide by hanging, Sunday forenoon. He went out from the house about 9 o'clock in the morning and not having returned at noon, his housekeeper, Mrs. Planders, telephoned to a neighbor, Mr. Horace Moxley, inquiring if Mr. Gates was, or had been there. Upon being informed that they had not seen him, she asked Mr. Moxley if he would not come there and see if Mr. Gates was not about the buildings, fearing that he might have got hurt while doing his chores. Mr. Moxley and his son, Guy, went immediately to the barns of Mr. Gates and commenced a search, and the younger Moxley found the lifeless body of Mr. Gates, hanging by the neck in the hayloft of his horse barn.

Mr. Gates was one of the town's best known and most highly respected citizens, had held many offices of trust and responsibility in town and was one of the selectmen, at the time of his death. No cause is known for his rash act, but it is known, however, that his health during the past season has been poor and he had come to believe he was suffering from a cancerous trouble. Brooding his belief had undoubtedly unbalanced his mind. He is survived by two sons, Henry and Frank Gates, both of this town, who have the sympathy of the entire townspeople in their great affliction.

BOUND OVER FOR TRIAL.

H. H. Bartlett, Charged with Misuse of United States Mail.

Burlington, Nov. 22.—H. H. Bartlett alias R. H. Arthur, after a hearing before United States Commissioner M. S. Viles of this city Saturday afternoon, was bound over to the United States court for fraudulent use of the mails.

LONG TIME IN BUSINESS.

John Stearns of Rutland Passed Away This Morning.

Rutland, Nov. 22.—John W. Stearns, one of Rutland's oldest business men, died this morning. He had been in the furniture business here for forty years. He leaves his wife and one son, John B. Stearns, a prominent undertaker.

WANTED TO LYNCH THEM.

Heavy Guard of Police Necessary to Protect Prisoners.

Newport, Nov. 22.—Two men, Burton and Wilson, charged with assault of seven-year-old Bertha Tiffin, from which the latter is dying, have been taken to Stanstead, Que., for a jury trial in January. Frequent threats to lynch the prisoners made it necessary to have a heavy guard of police.

ANOTHER CAPTAIN RESIGNS.

Capt. O. H. Parker of Company M, Burlington, Ont.

Burlington, Nov. 22.—Capt. O. H. Parker yesterday announced his resignation as the commanding officer of Company M, 1st Infantry, V. N. G. The resignation was forwarded some time ago to the adjutant-general. It has been accepted and election to fill the vacancy will be held on December 1.

Captain Parker has held command of Company M for two years and more, and during that time the organization has increased in efficiency constantly. The company this year attained a percentage of 77 in marksmanship, which is larger than it ever had before, and this is only one instance of the general improvement. It will be remembered that Company M acted as a body guard to the president when he visited Burlington during the tercentenary, and when the day was over the chief of the secret service men here said that though he had seen such duty performed by detachments of the national guard before, he had never seen it so well done.

The military service of Capt. Parker began in Manchester, N. H., with Company C of the New Hampshire National Guard in 1894. After he came to Burlington to reside he enlisted as a private in Company M. That was in 1900, and in 1901 he was made corporal, and a quartermaster sergeant in 1902. He was successively second and first lieutenant and on Captain Woodbury's resignation in 1907 he was elected captain. He is leaving the service on account of the pressure of business duties.

Though no prediction can be made with certainty, it is probable that Lieut. J. M. Ashley will be elected to the captaincy. He has materially assisted Captain Parker throughout the latter's administrative duties.

Several other resignations have taken place in the national guard of the state. First Lieut. Charles H. Davis of Company I, Brattleboro, has resigned and an election will be held to fill his place December 2. Capt. Stephen S. Cushing of Company B, St. Albans, and Capt. Harry C. Mosley of Company F, Northfield, have also tendered their resignations and received notice of their acceptance.

GAME ENDED IN DISPUTE.

Championship Contest at Poultney Will Be Protested by Montpelier.

Poultney, Nov. 22.—Troy Conference academy of this place and Montpelier seminary played a chess and exciting game of foot ball here Saturday afternoon for the state intercollegiate championship. Poultney claims the victory, on the authority of Referee Fischer of Middlebury, by a score of 3 to 0, on a safety, but Montpelier asserts that it was a tie game, neither side scoring, and the manager of the seminary eleven will consult foot ball experts to settle the dispute.

Montpelier had a little the better of the game throughout, but the academy managed to keep the Montpelier players away from their goal line and the seminary game was never in danger until the last minute of play, when a punted ball struck outside the side line and bounded back into the field of play and the Montpelier man who caught it was thrown against his own goal line.

The visitors claimed that the ball should have been put in play where it struck the line, but the decision was in favor of the Poultney team, the incident ending in a dispute what was otherwise a good game.

The teams lined up as follows:

Montpelier. Williams, 1 e ..... 1 e, Skodny, Barrett, 1 t ..... 1 t, LaFrenay, Smith, 1 g ..... 1 g, Spooner, Connor, 1 c ..... 1 c, Deeds, Morse, 1 p ..... 1 p, Faulkner, Marshall, 1 t ..... 1 t, Yunk, Martin, 1 e ..... 1 e, Stafford, Voss, 1 q ..... 1 q, Beach, Gilman, 1 b ..... 1 b, Barclay, Springer, 1 b ..... 1 b, Dow, Bennis, 1 b ..... 1 b, Dransly.

DEATH OF WEALTHY MAN.

Columbus Smith of Salisbury Died Late on Saturday.

Middlebury, Nov. 22.—Columbus Smith, reputed to be the wealthiest man in Addison county, died at his home in Salisbury, at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the cause being a general breaking down of his system coupled with heart failure. He had been confined to his room for the past four years.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, of Salisbury, and was born January 6, 1819. After receiving a common school education, he entered Middlebury college and graduated in 1832, beginning the study of law immediately. He was admitted to the bar in 1845 and from that time until a few years ago, he has carried on an extensive business in the line of looking after claims made upon foreign estates by Americans, making five trips across the Atlantic in one year. He was said to be a millionaire, but had never held a public office. He owned, perhaps, a dozen farms in Addison county, and large tracts of Western property.

He is survived by his wife.

SUNDAY MORNING RAID.

On Alleged Poker Parlor in Brattleboro Building.

Brattleboro, Nov. 22.—A productive raid was made early Sunday morning on the premises in the water cure building occupied by Edward Greening, in which seven men, a pack of cards, chips and a complete poker playing outfit was captured by Chief of Police George Wilson and officers Worden and Belden. A midnight session of the municipal court was held, which was concluded at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, the seven men being allowed to go upon their own recognizance.

Judge E. W. Gibson presided at the hearing. The warrants for the arrest were made by States Attorney Charles H. Williams, of Bellows Falls. The officers forced the door to Greens apartments and caught the entire crowd.

Married at Essex Junction.

Essex Junction, Nov. 22.—Isaac S. Tabor and Mrs. Ida A. F. Rogers of Cabot were married at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. C. C. Adams on Saturday evening.

SWALLOWS MISFORTUNE

Man Named McAulay Made Complaint of Being Robbed

AND NOW DISAPPEARS

He Said That When He Was Looking Over His Big Roll for a $2 Note, a Newly Found Friend Grabbed the Whole Thing and Ran Away.

A man giving his name as McAulay reported to the police last evening that he had been robbed of $150 by an unknown man on River street. He said he had pulled the wad of bills out of his pocket to give the man a two-dollar bill to get a pint of whiskey and some beer. As he was turning the bills over to find the two-dollar bill, the young man lighted a match, so he could see, and as soon as he lighted the match and saw the big wad of money, McAulay claims, he grabbed it out of his hands and made away in the darkness.

McAulay said he came to Barre Saturday night from Lanesboro, Mass., where he had been working on a quarry, and that he had $150 with him. He said he hired a room Saturday night at a house on River street, where he intended to stay this week, as the quarry on which he had been working in Lanesboro had shut down for a week. Yesterday he fell in with several men on River street and vicinity, who did not seem to have any money, but they could get him all the liquor he wanted on a very short notice, just so long as he would put up the price.

He said he had several drinks during the forenoon, and in the afternoon he fell in with the man whom he claims stole his money. McAulay thinks the man is a resident of Barre, and he appeared to be about 24 years of age, but he did not know his name, though he thought he would be able to find out his name this morning from the people where they visited on River street. He said that there was a third man with him when his money was taken, and that they both chased the thief so far as they could, until he eluded them in the dark.

This morning McAulay failed to show up at the police station to have a warrant issued for the arrest of the man, and the police have heard nothing more concerning the case.

Almon St. John of Berlin pleaded guilty in the city court this morning to a subsequent offense of intoxication and paid a fine with costs amounting to $21.84. St. John was taken off an electric car Sunday afternoon by Officer Carle on the complaint of the conductor, James Kesson, that he had been making a disturbance.

COLCHESTER MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

William Fay was Driving Span of Horses Across Central Vermont Track When Struck.

Colchester, Nov. 22.—William Fay, an aged and respected farmer of this town, was instantly killed at about 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon by a southbound Central Vermont train. Mr. Fay was driving a span of horses and at the crossing in this village the locomotive hit the team squarely in the center, throwing Mr. Fay on the cow-catcher and carrying him over to rocks. One horse was killed and the other much injured.

The body was brought to the railroad station and Health Officer Burdick and the selectmen were notified. After their arrival the body was taken to the home of the wife, on the outskirts of this village.

Mr. Fay was 60 years of age and was a deacon of the Congregational church. He owned a large farm situated near this village. He is survived by a wife. The funeral was held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon from his late home.

LICENSEE IN COURT.

Charged with Selling Certain Goods Without Right.

Burlington, Nov. 22.—The case of State vs. Joseph Agel was taken up in Chittenden county court Saturday morning, and at noon a recess was taken until two o'clock this afternoon. State's Attorney Shaw and Attorney General Sargent prosecute, and R. E. Brown and V. A. Bullard appear for the respondent.

The respondent holds a state license of the fourth class, which gives him the right to wholesale liquors to licensees of the retail class. He is charged with selling Conway's ale and Uncle Sam's ale without having the legal right to do so, the two brands of ale not having been tendered to the state laboratory for analysis, according to law.

George A. Lavalley, an employee in Mr. Agel's licensed place, testified to having disposed of Uncle Sam's ale. When the brands, which Mr. Agel carried, had been sold short, Lavalley would sell a barrel or keg of the Uncle Sam brand, which was being stored by H. C. Powers, who has a license of the fourth class. He did not appear that the respondent was aware of Lavalley's actions in this regard.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

More new coats received at Vaughan's. Miss Agnes Nash of Burlington, formerly of this city, visited friends in town yesterday.

Among arrivals at the City hotel to-day were J. F. Donahue, Manchester, E. J. J. Foster, Bethel, N. H.; Dr. W. O. Hutchinson, Washington; John E. Connell, T. B. Simmons, Boston; J. E. Miles, Burlington; W. R. Libby, Methuen, Mass.

For your wool blankets, go to Perry's store.

There will be a special menu at the City hotel Thanksgiving day. The price for dinner will be 50 cents to all.

THE STING OF DEATH HAS BEEN ABOLISHED

Jesus Abolished It in His Death, Declared Bishop Hall in Sermon at the Episcopal Church Last Evening.

The Rt. Rev. Arthur C. A. Hall of Burlington, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Vermont, preached at the morning and evening services at the Church of the Good Shepherd yesterday and was heard by large audiences. At the morning service, the bishop confirmed a class of eight people.

The bishop's sermon in the evening was on the subject, "Death, and Christ's Conquest of Death." He said in part: "Jesus says, 'I am the resurrection and the life, and whosoever believeth in Me shall never die.' There was a very common belief about the teaching of the Bible that death was the penalty for sin and that if there had never been any sin on this earth there would never have been any death.

"But nowadays objections to this belief are raised and scientists show us that there was physical death on this earth before there was any sin. The whole law of nature teaches us that death is natural. Apart from the teachings of science, our own common sense tells us that without death this world would have long ago become overgrown. It would not have been possible to feed, clothe and house all of the people that have been born since the world began. We must die, and one generation makes room for another.

"That once popular conception of the Bible was wrong, and that fact shows us that we should be more careful of our interpretation of the Bible and should strive to get a better knowledge of its teachings. A moral and spiritual death was the penalty which Adam and Eve suffered because of their sin. A man who has sinned feels himself estranged from God, and he shrinks away in fear of death. That is the sting of death.

"Christians should never fear death. They should at least meet it resignedly. Jesus has taught us that we are raised from one stage to another, and so the faithful thoughts of life have gone. Jesus said, 'He that believeth on me shall never die, but have eternal life.' Temporal things end with this world, but eternal things live on in the next world. He introduces us to a higher spiritual life and the true Christian should feel at home in Heaven, the home which by prayer and study of the Bible they have been preparing themselves for. All Christians should look forward to the final resurrection of the world and to a reunion with God. The sting of death has been abolished. Jesus abolished it in His death. Jesus has abolished the sting of death, but he has not abolished death."

AGED DESCENDANT OF EARLY SETTLERS DEAD

David Boles, Who Had Lived All His Life on Farm Which His Grandfather Had Hewn Out of the Wilderness.

David Boles, a descendant of early settlers of Washington county, died this morning at the farm, where he was born, located just over the Barre line into Berlin. He had not been in his usual health for some time but had been confined to his bed less than two weeks.

Death was caused by the ravages of age, coupled with heart trouble and gastritis. Mr. Boles was born on December 20, 1825, the son of David T. and Mary (Sawyer) Boles. He was reared to manhood by Moses Hastings Sawyer, his uncle, and on the latter's death the farm property in the town of Berlin fell to him. The farm had been hewn out of the wilderness by his grandfather, Abel Sawyer, about the year 1700, and it has remained in the family ever since that time. It originally covered some three hundred acres, but latterly Mr. Boles had sold off considerable, leaving, however, a farm of two hundred acres.

This farm was carried on by Mr. Boles, and in addition to that work he had been a blacksmith, in which line of work he was very skillful and ingenious. Mr. Boles had always lived a retiring life, so far as public office was concerned, although he had been offered many positions of trust and importance in his town.

He was married to Vienna L. Beckley, daughter of Luther Beckley, and she survives him. They had one child, which died at the age of three years. There are no other near relatives, but several distant cousins. The funeral will be held from his late residence on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. J. Edward Wright of Montpelier will officiate.

GOT FRIEND INTO TROUBLE.

Hunter Who Pledged Guilty to Killing Deer Not Alone Arrested.

Henry Caron, on whose farm in Plainfield Antonio Paluselli of Barre was arrested and accused of killing a deer out of season, was brought into Washington county court this morning on an information brought by State's Attorney Gates, charging him with having a deer carcass in his possession. Caron pleaded guilty and then State's Attorney Gates asked that the man be put on probation, which Judge Waterman took under consideration. When the officers went to Caron's place, he denied that there was any deer carcass at his place, and later, when the officers found the carcass in the granary, he owned up that he had taken the carcass in at the request of three men, one of whom was Paluselli.

When Paluselli was arraigned, he pleaded guilty to killing a deer out of season and paid a fine and costs amounting to $108.70. He said that the right of a handsome buck was too much of a temptation for him to resist. The other two men who were with him have not been caught yet.

For your wool blankets, go to Perry's store.